Blood Unit May Halt Visit Here

If the local office of the American Red Cross is forced to close its doors, the visit of the Bloodmobile to the Woman's Clubhouse on June 16 may be the last time the unit stops here.

Community response to the current Red Cross fund campaign has been so far below the minimum necessary to maintain the local office that the many services rendered locally will have to be curtailed or eliminated completely if additional contributions fail to meet the quota.

THE BLOOD program, one among many Red Cross services, has actually returned to the community, in the form of life-giving blood, the financial contributions of residents over the years.

The Red Cross blood program returned to Sierra Madre more than $6,700 last year in the form of blood used by local residents, an amount nearly equal to the entire quota needed to support the local office as well as national Red Cross work.

This figure is based on the average cost of blood procured commercially and on the 226 pints of Red Cross blood used in the past year by local residents. This money was saved for the community because the residents used the blood and did not have to pay for it.

IN ADDITION, a part of the local quota of contributions to the Red Cross is used to help underwrite the cost of processing Red Cross blood.

A Red Cross office in Sierra Madre has made it possible for the Bloodmobile to visit here continuously since 1942, affording local residents the opportunity of donating blood in their own city.

100 Sign Up For Swim Lessons Here

More than 100 reservations have already been taken for the city-sponsored swimming lessons at the new pool. Parents are reminded to make their choice now of the three dates available for the 10-lesson course, June 23, July 7, or July 21. The price is $3, payable in advance.

Life-saving classes will run concurrently with the advanced group, which will start at 9 a.m. The life-saving course requires three weeks (15 lessons) and costs $4. Intermediates start at 10 a.m., beginners at 11 a.m. Red Cross certificates will be issued for each level of achievement.

SIERRA MADRE has secured the services again of Mrs. Audrey Smith, Red Cross instructor here for several years, to conduct the same type of program for the Recreation Department under its sponsorship.

She will be assisted by volunteer ARC certified instructor aides, junior and senior lifesavers, who also conduct lessons at private pools for groups of Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls and others.

A misunderstanding of how the Red Cross operates its water safety program has resulted from the announcement of the threatened closing of its office here.

ALTHOUGH ARC trains instructors on a nation-wide basis, the program of free lessons by paid instructors for children has been discontinued, and last year Sierra Madre was one of the last cities to receive the benefit of this service.

It was partly for this reason that the City operated the Canyon Pool last season.

ARC maintains the only recognized standards for lifeguards and swimming instructors. Certificates of achievement issued by its authorized instructors are honored by every organization in the U.S.

Rescue Crew Carries Two from Canyon

George Turner, 11-year-old boy scout of 9101 S. Dalton St., Los Angeles, was carried from the Santa Anita Canyon Saturday afternoon by members of the Search and Rescue Team.

George was on a hike with his troop when a falling rock hit him and knocked him off the trail near Sturtevant Falls. He fell 30 feet, injuring his right shoulder and left forearm. He was badly bruised.

THE RESCUE Team was called at 1:20 p.m. On the way from the canyon they were hampered by a sudden

City to Present Award to Local Rescue Crew

A group of local citizens has recommended to Mayor David Wood that a suitable Certificate of Merit be presented to each member of the Search and Rescue Team in appreciation of its heroic work in our vicinity during the past years.

Mayor Wood has accepted this recommendation enthusiastically provided a sufficient number of persons sign the lists now on display at Reoss Market, Sierra Madre Hardware and Roberts Market. (Do not sign more than one list.)

Time for presentation is at 10 a.m. Saturday, June 14, in Memorial Park.

Legion, VFW Aux. to Decorate Veterans' Graves

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary and the Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet at the Sierra Madre Cemetery at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, May 29, to again decorate the 41 veterans' graves there.

Donations of flowers will be appreciated and may be left at the VFW at 40 E. Montecito after 3 p.m. that day, or call Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy, president, for pickup. ELgin 5-7359.

The Sierra Madre Cemetery Committee has had the cemetery cleaned. The task of raking and hauling away grass and weeds is expected to be assumed by members of the VFW.

Local Merchants To Hear Long Beach Promoter

Vito Romano, general manager of the Long Beach Retail Merchants Association, will be guest speaker June 9 at a "booster luncheon" of Sierra Madre businessmen, Ralph Hurwit, chairman, announced yesterday.

Romano will speak on "What Every Merchant Wants to Know," outlining ways to stimulate business in today's market. Romano has promoted many outstanding merchandising events in Long Beach, San Diego and other cities.

Ruth League Marks Another City First

Next Monday, May 26, will be another "first" for Sierra Madre since it marks the start of Babe Ruth baseball in this community.

Previously, any 13- to 15-year-old boy who wished to play had to go either to Arcadia or Pasadena and try out.

Over 60 boys have been practicing for the past two months; tryouts were conducted recently, and four 15-man squads were selected by a "player auction" last Friday. The teams will have new uniforms purchased with money donated by the sponsors.

IN THE opening game next Monday at La Salle School, where four games will be played weekly at 5:30 p.m., the Cardinals, managed by Ray Shackelford and coached by Dick Johnson and Henry Nuetzel, meet the Giants whose manager is Rev. Ray E. Hansen and whose coaches are Joe Turner and Al Foxton.

The boys' baseball program in Sierra Madre would not be possible without the financial support of many groups and individuals. While most of them are local people, two are not—the 7-Up Youth Foundation, in Los Angeles, as well as a Pasadena concern which wishes to remain anonymous. The complete list of team sponsors follows:

Store Burglar Nabbed by Local Police

A 21-year-old Arcadian, arrested by Sierra Madre police, has admitted burglarizing Roberts Market last month.

He is Mike Richard Aronson, 134 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., arrested May 17 in a Sierra Madre tavern by Sgt. Robert Heasley and Patrolman Keith Bassett.

The arrest of Aronson came after Arcadia police asked the Sierra Madre department for help in nabbing Aronson and a 25-year-old companion, Richard R. Thorgimson, 3835 Hampton Rd., Pasadena, on charges of assault.

The car in which the pair had been riding, a Corvette, was spotted on Sierra Madre Blvd. It was a partially filled fifth of whiskey, later identified as some of the liquor stolen from Roberts.

Local police also identified Aronson from fingerprints he left on a piece of glass when he broke into the market. Thorgimson, police said, was not implicated in the burglary.

Aronson, who took 20 fifth of liquor and a case of beer, among other minor items, told police he sold the whiskey for $15, with the exception of the single bottle found on the seat of the car.

Bond Workers Plan Campaign Meeting Today

A precinct workers meeting of Sierra Madre Citizens for School Bonds will be held at 10:30 this morning in the home of Mrs. Glen Nebel, 21 Holdman, Clifford Stowell, chairman, announced yesterday.

The entire committee, Stowell said, will meet at his home at 300 N. Mountain Trail on May 29. The group was formed a week ago.

Precinct chairmen are Henry Rose, Mrs. Nebel, Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Mrs. Maxine Danowsky, Mrs. Claude Brown Jr., Mrs. William Waite and Mrs. Betty Johnson.

CALTECH PLAY

The Drama Club of the California Institute of Technology will present its annual play this Thursday, Friday and Saturday (May 22, 23 and 24) at 8:30 p.m. in Culbertson Hall on the Caltech campus. Abandoning conventional staging in favor of the theater in the round, the Club this year will offer the Lindsay-Crouse comedy-mystery, "Remains to Be Seen."

Don't Forget Free Rubbish Haul Saturday

Want to have your combustible rubbish hauled away free of charge?

Sierra Madreans can take advantage of a unique opportunity this Saturday, May 24, from 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. City trucks will be on hand during those hours at the water grounds.

Load your rubbish (no big, bulky items such as old sofas, stoves, etc., will be accepted) on the trucks and help beautify Sierra Madre. The campaign is being sponsored by the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce.

'We've Hit End of Road.' Lanterman

California is "living in a fool's paradise" if its legislators think the program of deficit financing can be continued, Assemblyman Frank Lanterman said here Tuesday.

Lanterman, who spoke before members of the Kiwanis Club, is running for his fifth term as GOP assemblyman in the 48th District. He is opposed this year by Listie Snively, Democrat.

"The real fight in the State Legislature," Lanterman said, "was not over water or other issues, but over financing."

"It was estimated four years ago that an over-all water program would cost $12 billion. Where in heaven's name are we going to get $12 billion when we are now facing a deficit of $120 million?"

He charged that the state has been spending in an irresponsible manner for many years, taking surplus "windfall" funds to make up deficits.

"We've reached the end of the road," he said. "We now must either use the 'meat axe' approach and chop off services or develop new sources of revenue. We are at the point where we must pay as we go."

He added that pork-barrel offers the correspondence legislation, the type that wins votes in particular districts, must be stopped, even for his "superior work" though many of the politicians which makes him "an outcast" will shudder at the standing asset to your community and store."

Protest Vote Seen Cause of Defeat

Newell Barrett, incumbent School Board candidate, was soundly defeated for re-election Tuesday in what was generally considered a protest against the Board in general.

Arthur Albertson was easily elected, while Mrs. Clark Casey piled up 151 more votes than Barrett, thus winning the second contested seat on the Board of Education. A total of 820 persons voted, which is considered a good turnout for a School Board election although the figure is far below the total registration of approximately 4,300.

The vote, which was approximately the same in both polling places, totaled 712 for Albertson, 487 for Mrs. Casey and 336 for Barrett. School Board terms are for three years.

CLAUDE BROWN JR. received 26 write-in votes, James Dunnagan, 1, and William Keith, 1.

Most observers believed the defeat of Barrett marked a general, if vaguely defined, protest against the Board of Education, particularly the Board's action involving the religious controversy which erupted about a year and a half ago.

Following the religious fracas, there was an additional turmoil involving a released time program for religious education. Then in the past few weeks, local teachers protested against the new school administration.

Although it appeared during the campaign that the religious issue had faded from memory, it turned out otherwise at the polls, according to most observers.

One local businessman observed that he believed voters also were dissatisfied because the Board failed to back up the recommendations of School Superintendent Lowell D. Jackson regarding the discharge of two teachers.

THE TEACHERS, however, and their friends strongly backed the Board when it overruled Jackson, so it appears that in this instance, at least, the Board was "damned if it did and damned if it didn't."

Few observers believed the released time issue played an overly important part, except as an added irritant, since it appeared that few citizens favored such a program. At least two ministers, however, were angered by the Board's refusal to institute a released time program, and they may have worked for Barrett's defeat.

In any event, the new School Board is now composed of two winning candidates, Albertson and Mrs. Casey, and Hugh Colvin, Mrs. Nathan Jacobs and the Board president, Kenneth Bush.

Historical Society Plans Annual Meet

The Sierra Madre Historical Society holds its annual meeting, with election of officers for 1958-59 and a program of historical matter, in the Community Room of the Public Library this Saturday at 2 p.m.

New members will be introduced from the floor and guests of members are welcome to attend. Mrs. H. Randolph Wood, president, will preside.

The program will consist of two numbers, both of them by long-time residents of Sierra Madre.

William Wark, active member of the Search and Rescue Crew, and well-known Sierra Madre News writer of articles on the San Gabriel mountain trails, will give a brief history of the old Mt. Wilson Trail.

This will be followed by an illustrated talk on the famous Monument Valley, with color slides, by Elmer Weese, former resident of that section of Arizona, and the author of the unique hand-made book of 38 color block-prints and hand-set text, entitled "Early California," owned by the Sierra Madre Public Library.

Weese was a charter member of the Sierra Madre Arts Guild and for 25 years has been an artist and designer for the Western Label Co. of Los Angeles.

Editorial

Thoughts at Random

It was Robert Benchley, I believe, who while struggling with his muse for several minutes finally typed on a clean sheet of paper the single word, "To."

The spark that would set his wit afire, he thought, but after considerable squirming, several trips to an adjacent coffee shop and a perusal of Webster's Unabridged, he succumbed by ending the sentence thusly: "Hell with it!" and departed to the nearest pub.

Perhaps it's the sullen atmosphere, the whir of the air conditioner or, more likely, just plain dullness, but only random and inconsequential thoughts can be called forth from my so-called brain.

SUCH AS:

"How does one become a hero, Mommy?"
"Why, go to Caracas and Lima, of course, and get yourself pelted with stones and overly ripe tomatoes."

"Well, mommy, how does one defeat the recession?"

"Too easy, darling. Simply coin a better slogan, such as 'You Butter Buy Now.'"

SUCH UNHOLY thoughts, I confess, should remain for all time buried, but try as I may they continually pop to the surface, grin lecherously and then float away over the palm trees, which, I understand, used to make excellent torches at Halloween.

WHICH REMINDS me of the Democrats who probably are going to win the next election for many of the wrong reasons. See. Dulles used to talk about "liberating" the Iron Curtain countries until the tragic experience in Hungary exposed the emptiness of that line.

And now, lo and behold, we have the Democratic National Committee trying to capture the votes of various nationality groups by adopting the "liberation" policy. Here we see Gov. Harriman of New York berating the President for having "dropped" the issue!

All of which prompted "The Reporter" to comment that when Sen. Knowland leaves the Hill, "the representation of Formosa will probably be taken over by a high-ranking Democrat."

THIS LEADS to the narcotics problem through uncharted channels, possibly because politicians are perpetually mouthing off on the subject in an effort to garner votes.

Dope addicts are ill. They need medical and psychiatric treatment, not a jail cell. Pushers are in the business to make money and so long as it remains illegal for an addict to buy, the pusher will continue to prosper despite threats of death and penal servitude.

The police, of course, must uphold the law, but many an intelligent peace officer who deals with the problem will ruefully admit that threats of punishment have not lessened the narcotics problem one iota.

IN ENGLAND, where it is NOT illegal to buy narcotics, there is no addiction problem. There was no problem in the United States, in fact, before the law forced dope into the hands of the unscrupulous guys in search of a fast dollar.

This is not to argue that narcotics should be made available to the public overnight, because the problem has, of course, become too enormously complicated in this country for any fast solution.

I am suggesting, though, that passing more laws, imposing death sentences and long prison terms on pushers will not help, as past experience has illustrated.

Persons in the not too distant past were once disembowled for stealing a loaf of bread, but that didn't stop thievery.

On that somber note, it occurs to me that perhaps I should have followed the advice of Benchley in the first place.—H.W.E.

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

The Brown-Richards-Knight billboards remind us once more that all our Purity in Elections committees in the State Legislature seem to do is hold hearings, for which they draw per diem pay—hearings which never bring about the laws they should.

Ever since 1952, when I poked my amateurish nose just far enough into politics to see how easy it would be to get it dirty, I have been pleading for laws which would make it a jail offense for any piece of campaign literature or billboard to be printed or exhibited unless it was authorized by responsible persons and was clearly labeled so that anyone could see who paid for it and gave it, and draw his own conclusions as to why. The law should also make it a crime for any anonymous person to telephone a slander on any candidate, for Heaven knows we have seen far too much of that vicious and shameful campaigning in California.

IT IS not democracy when only the rich or those willing to be tools of any monied interest can afford to run for office. If the law provided that every candidate must name a finance manager and nobody else could spend money in that candidate's behalf, that all contributions to that finance manager should be open to inspection and that no one be allowed to spend more than a reasonable amount on his campaign, we would cease electing some candidates so obligated to those who gave or raised the money that they would have to favor raids on public funds for or secure important appointments for men they knew were not trustworthy.

The necessity for huge campaign funds makes many good men become slaves either to big business or to labor or to crooked or demoralizing interests, and all are equally bad.

It would be better for the candidates and for all of us if laws would reasonably limit what can be spent and make it a serious crime to circulate any anonymous or last minute smear attack. And until we do those things we are going to keep on electing many men to office whom we should not elect.

IN 1952 I managed to arouse some national interest in my presentation of these ideas—drawn from ideas originally expressed by Theodore Roosevelt, Sen. Paul Douglas, Sen. Richard Neuberger and other better men—so that one national magazine got me to write an article on them, the Christian Science Monitor devoted nearly two columns to them, and Chet Huntley, Elmer Davis and some other noted commentators spoke or wrote in favor of them.

Then I was asked to testify before the California Purity in Elections Committee. For an hour I cited evidence and reasons why such laws would take a lot of the temptation, the crookedness and the shameful trickery out of politics. All my testimony was faithfully tape-recorded.

But I'll bet that was the last anyone ever heard of it. Yes, the simple fact is that too many men in Congress and in State Legislatures fear they might lose their jobs or their power if they ever enacted laws to make elections surgically clean.

Letters to the Editor

ART FAIR

Dear Sir:

Our community leaders, under Col. Walter Thurber's direction, must be mind-readers or have extra-sensory perception, is the opinion of the delighted group planning the coming Arts and Crafts Fair in Sierra Madre.

Feeling that community interest as well as moral support will be with them in their efforts, St. Catherine's Guild of Sierra Madre's Church of the Ascension has plans for the "Pot-Pourri Arts and Crafts Fair," to be held June 7 in the gardens of the church.

The fair, held in the past as a civic affair, has had great support from San Gabriel artists as well as such well-known California artists as Dorothy Lott, Alfred Dewey, Albert Kramer, Del Lucia Lindman, Norman Hall, Orrin White and Roger Hayward.

The committee for the Art Fair, headed by Mrs. Herbert J. Summers and Mrs. Eugene Field Englar, shares the opinion of community leaders that the coming fair is a "must" for Sierra Madre.

Further details about the Arts and Crafts Fair will be found in the Sierra Madre News at a later date. It's already cooking!

Mrs. H. (Virginia) Summers
Mrs. E. F. Englar
Mrs. R. S. Simmons

FIRST THINGS FIRST

Dear Sir:

I am heartily in favor of enhancing Sierra Madre's reputation as an ideal place to live and congratulate the committee of community leaders in making a start in that direction.

But do let us put "first things first." Let us begin by RIGHT NOW supporting our local chapter of the American Red Cross. We are not worthy of the name of our city if we cannot do that, and if we lose our chapter it will be a big step in the direction of losing our identity as a city and becoming just a "bed-room town."

We have just let a very fine, small department store get away from us for lack of support. Before attracting a "penny-type" store, let us support the two fine stores of that type which we now have. One of these is already expanding and with support could become the well-stocked department store the committee speaks of.

Does the committee know that one of the local churches has for the past several years sponsored an art fair (this year an June 7) which attracts painters and hand-crafters from all over the county?

And what about our very fine exhibits of modern art at the Public Library every month, and those of local artists in the City Hall?

And how about supporting our local Historical Society? It has in its membership not only those who have helped in the past to make Sierra Madre an ideal place to live, but also those of present generation who are interested in keeping it that way and are making history today. One of the society projects this year is to have a historical marker placed at the foot of the old Mt. Wilson

Beat the Slump

Trail which the Forestry Service tells us for very good reasons has been abandoned as a public trail into the mountains.

By all means let us pull together to enhance the reputation of Sierra Madre as an ideal place to live, but let us go on from there.

Sincerely,
JANET S. WOOD

RAPPORT NEEDED

Dear Sir:

I write as a parent and taxpayer of Sierra Madre.

It is my sincere hope and belief that some new constructiveness has come, or will come, to each and all of us in this community as a result of the concern of some of us with recent problems which faced our local School Board, which problems placed on our Board, administration and teaching staff additional burdens of time and consideration in the solving thereof.

I personally consider it my responsibility to support the resulting decisions of the Board and to express my trust in the increased awareness, on the parts of all concerned, of the needs of our schools. (I refer to these needs in special relation to the fact that our local public school system consists merely of (a) two elementary schools in a small community; (b) the Junior High and High School enrollment which rests under the administration of the Pasadena School Board.)

ALSO, as one Sierra Madre taxpayer and parent, I would like to say I concur thoroughly in the belief, as stated publicly by the three candidates for the local School Board, to the effect that there should be open communication among Board, administration, teachers, parents and citizens. I also support the belief as stated recently by Newell Barrett, incumbent Board candidate, that our community, and our Board, should be aware of the needs of our schools.

I would offer the extended belief that everyone involved in the education of our children should mutually become increasingly aware of the varying needs inherent in such joint, public responsibility. I believe that harmonious carrying out of such responsibility is based on communication in all its forms, and its awareness. I do not believe that "selective," "representative" communication or awareness can successfully accomplish this democratic educational end.

Springing from my own recently increased awareness and ensuing consideration of the needs of our local schools, and to the end purpose of constructiveness, I respectfully submit the following communication and specific suggestion for your consideration.

I believe that our School Board, particularly as representing a small, closely-knit community, having accepted the responsibility of elected leadership in the education of the children of our community, at the same time have accepted the accompanying responsibility of leading and assisting our community in becoming and remaining aware of the needs of its schools by continuous, informative and questioning communication with the entire community as to the needs and workings of the schools; also, by encouraging the comments or expression of thoughts and wishes of the taxpayers and all others involved in the human business of the education of the children of our community.

I BELIEVE that as members of a body elected by the entire taxpayer citizenry of our community to represent the best desires of the majority of this citizenry in the education of its children, our School Board members should be constantly aware of such relationship.

I believe that a periodic statement by our elected representative members (our School Board) containing information of the policies and plans of our Board, relating such policies and plans to the actual carrying out thereof by the administration and the teaching staff, issued consistently but clearly to the taxpayer citizenry as a whole and to all others involved in the education of our children—that such communication could serve both as helpful guide and measuring stick of the awareness of each and all of us who are involved in the education of the children of our community, of the needs inherent in this mutual enterprise.

I believe that such a statement might profitably include a definition by the Board itself as to what the Board considers to be the responsibilities of (1) the taxpayer citizenry (2) the Board (3) the superintendent (4) the principals (5) the teachers (6) the parents; and that these responsibilities should be defined as to the effectiveness of the parts played by each and all in the public education of the children of this community.

I BELIEVE that for the most successful clarification, such communication should be issued in some recorded form direct from the Board itself to all the above mentioned individuals involved in the public education of our children; and should be issued not only at times of election of Board members or of impending bond elections, but as a yearly minimum procedure such as in the early spring before expenditures for the coming school year are finally considered, and in the fall to parents new to the community.

We are none of us perfect. We all make mistakes (taxpayer citizenry, Board, administration, teachers, parents—myself most especially included). It is, however, my considered belief that we could all eliminate many errors and inharmonies in our mutual efforts for the most superior education by our elected leaders, with its ensuing encouraged comments thereon.

I believe such a communication would be of concrete help to us all toward the clearer evaluation of our individual niches in the overall democratic responsibility of the education and enlightenment of our children and thereby of our society as a whole.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Clifford C. Ward

Around the Square

By Tommy Ann Miller

Under the pretext of wanting him to lecture, Sheriff Herb Swan was enticed to the Park Sunday afternoon and ended up guest of honor at a surprise pot luck picnic, given by the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team.

The gathering (more than 50 grown-ups and children), was a farewell to Herb, who is being promoted to sergeant and will no longer act as co-ordinator—a job he's held since the Team's formal organization.

Lt. Fred Lalone praised Herb and presented him with an engraved watch from the men. After the pot luck (cleverly plotted by Margaret LaLone and Diane Harkness), everybody adjourned to the Park House where Sheriff Swan narrated a movie of the recent San Geronimo rescue.

TRACTION BOUND. Sympathies to Mary Yule, mother of three and wife to John, who will be spending the next two weeks in traction at St. Luke's Hospital. Mary's left elbow was shattered, when a wobbly ladder threw her to the ground while she was window washing outdoors last week.

ARMED WITH a movie camera and many rolls of colored film, Lillian Bois and daughter, Nicole, 10, and son, Phillippe, 7, take off via Pan Air from International at 9 a.m. Monday, for their former home in Noumea, New Caledonia.

Frist stop is Honolulu, where they'll switch to a Quantas plane for Sydney, Australia, and from there they'll backtrack. There are no direct flights to Noumea.

Husband, Paul, an architect, will remain here while the family visits Lillian's parents for three months. The Bois' (Lillian and the children were born and raised on the Island), came here three years ago to make their home on N. Mountain Trail.

How about showing those movies at the Library when you return, Lillian?

THE APRIL issue of the mountain lover's monthly magazine, "Summit," features a column by "On the Trails" columnist, Bill Wark, Sierra Madre's mountain expert and nature philosopher.

The column won the magazine's contest and Bill was awarded a lifetime subscription to "Summit."

COMPARTMENT to Cohasset, Pat Ferber and children, Debbie, 3½, and Kurt, 2, leave by train tomorrow for a visit with Pat's parents in Cohasset, Mass. Kurt, who manufactures microscopic machine parts, will hold down the Ferber Post until his family returns next month.

AT DAWN on his natal day (last Tuesday), Loren Jenkins was awakened by a telephone call from his two little granddaughters carolling: "Happy Birthday (giggle, giggle) dear Grandpa!" (Wonder who dialed?)

PERMANENT PIT? The water pipe diggings on E. Highland have been the fountainhead of much jest by neighborhood dwellers and their friends. One steady visitor, casting a jaundiced eye at the hole, asked "Are they still digging for that missing nut and bolt?"

Another report of a Ford (new) that got trapped under a soft earth pile after dark and had everyone heaving-ho by torchlight.

Platitudes Won't Solve Negro Problem

By Robert G. Spivack

THE PRESIDENT AND THE NEGRO PRESS—I don't suppose any man deliberately sets out to make a poor speech. But if President Eisenhower had been determined to let down his audience he could not have done it better than in the address he delivered to the National Association of Newspaper Publishers who met in Washington a few days ago.

This was an audience made up largely of Negro newspaper publishers, a group of men and women who are coming to have a bigger and bigger role in moulding U.S. public opinion. The NANP brought together under one roof some 350 of the most responsible men and women in American Negro life. They dealt with very ticklish problems and did not try to duck any, even including such touchy matters as the question of the crime rate among U.S. Negroes.

Their main interest, of course was civil rights. No other issue for the American Negro has such emotional impact.

When Mrs. Daisy Bates of the Little Rock NAACP stood up she was given an ovation that seemed as if it would never end. When A. Philip Randolph, an old fighter for equal rights, rose from his chair the chandeliers shook from the noise of the thunderous applause.

WHEN THE President marched into the ballroom of Washington's Presidential Arms and the Marine Corps Band struck up "Tail the Chief," this audience of sophisticated men and women gave him a monumental welcome. This was the first time since the Supreme Court integration decision of May 17, 1954, that the President has spoken to a Negro assemblage in the Capital. They were expecting a lot.

And then what happened? Ike urged "patience and forbearance" in the matter of race relations. If there were two words that did not have to be spoken to this group those were the words. They have been patient and forbearing since the days of the Emancipation Proclamation.

And then the President went on to deliver a sermonette, packed with clichés and obvious remarks.

"We must depend more on better and more profound education than simply on the letter of the law," the President said. "We must make sure that enforcement will not in itself create injustice."

On and on Ike rambled. He did not "decry laws, for they are necessary" but laws in themselves "will never solve problems that have their roots in the human heart and in the human emotions."

THE WRONG AUDIENCE—If the President was determined to make such a speech it seems obvious to me that he was addressing it to the wrong people. It has not been the Negro who has been bombing Southern houses of worship. It has not been integrationists who have planted dynamite in public schools. It has not been leaders of the NAACP who have urged defiance of the courts and civil disobedience—even when decisions have gone against them in Virginia and other Southern states.

After the speech was all over Presidential aides sought out audience reaction. They were surprised at how unanimously unfavorable it was. But the White House cannot write off as just an unfortunate mistake the President's remarks. I have been told that responsible Negro leaders went over many of these points with Sherman Adams and other Administration officials.

So we can only conclude that the failure to make a strong statement in behalf of obedience to the law of the land was a deliberate decision.

ACTUALLY when you examine the pattern of activity of this Administration, whether it is in civil rights or in Latin American relations, you find the same thing over and over again. It's a continuing pattern of appealing the most reactionary elements in the community.

In Latin America the Administration played ball with all the dictators, from Peron to Jimenez of Venezuela. The result of this policy was the explosion that took Vice President Nixon by surprise. Impoverished, trod upon people took their anger out on Nixon who, in their minds, was the symbol of the oppressor.

In Washington, the Administration appeases the Richard Russells of Georgia and the Jim Eastlands of Mississippi. That can go on only so long. Then we may find Negro leaders less patient and less forbearing than they have been up to now. And a lot of people will be asking, "What happened?"

While a member of California legislature, supported legislation which assured every worker the right to join a union of his choice. This outlawed the so-called "Yellow Dog Contract," and prohibited management from discriminating against hiring of union members.

Today Bill Knowland is a Candidate for Governor of California

He says to you:

1. The right of every American worker to belong to a union must continue to be effectively protected by law.
2. No American should be compelled to belong to a union to earn a living. Voluntary unionism will make unions responsible to their members and to the public.
3. Union members should enjoy the protection of a Workers' Bill of Rights which includes election of officers by guaranteed secret ballot and provision for recall of officers by secret ballot.

Chicken Sesame Good for Family or Party Fare

By Toni Maurin
ST. 7-9634

Mrs. John Gene Fricke of 3366 Barhite is a young matron of many interests. However, her interests all stem from her home and her family. She delights in furthering their pleasure as an entire unit which results in turning each project into a party shared by all.

Her shopping is done on a large scale and stored in her roomy freezer. Right now she is taking advantage of all the sales on chicken. She offers this different recipe both for family and party fare.

CHICKEN SESAME

For one three-pound chicken use

One egg slightly beaten, blended with 1/2 cup evaporated milk. Dip chicken in the above mixture and then thoroughly coat with the following ingredients well blended together:

- 1/2 Cup flour
- 1/4 tsp. baking powder
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 cup, finely grated nuts
- 1 tsp. salt
- 4 tsp. paprika
- 3 tsp. sesame seeds

Melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine in a flat pan in a 400° F. oven. Remove pan from oven and place chicken in pan skin side down. Return pan to oven and bake another 25 minutes. Remove chicken from pan to serving dish and make following gravy:

Blend 2 tbs. of flour with the pan drippings, stir well until thoroughly blended. Add one cup of broth, either canned or made from boiled giblets, one cup evaporated milk, season to taste with salt and pepper. Stir over medium fire until smooth and thickened. Makes two cups. Delicious with almost any type of potatoes or potato substitute. Don't fret about the loose nuts in gravy, they make it even better.

The following recipe won Mrs. Fricke a prize in a contest sponsored by the L.A. Times. It is a pie specially appealing to men and the wonderful part about it is that it freezes without any loss of quality or flavor:

CHOCOLATE PECAN PIE
Meringue Crust (Serves 6)
2 egg whites-room temperature

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
- 1/8 tsp. cream of tartar
- Dash of salt
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla

Beat egg whites and cream of tartar till stiff. Add gradually, sugar and salt. Fold in pecans and vanilla. Form meringue in 8-inch pie tin in pie crust shape. Bake at 300° F. 50 to 55 minutes. Cool in oven (open electric oven door). Should be just slightly golden.

Filling

Melt 21-cent size Hershey bar together with three tbs. water slowly. Fold into 1/2 pint of stiffly whipped cream. Fold in one tsp. vanilla. Fill shell and chill. Should be made several hours in advance.

IN ADDITION to her cooking talent, Mrs. Fricke is one of the local wonders with her many arts and crafts that she has as hobbies. She is an accomplished water colorist and takes great delight in hand decorating different items that her family builds together.

She is presently working on four 12x18 mosaic panels that will hang over her buffet in her dining room. Her next project will be a coffee table for their lanai. The family makes a copious amount of Christmas gifts together that have a decided professional look. They all enjoy camping and trailer camping and make many trips through the year.

She does a great deal of sewing in her spare time and makes many of her own clothes as well as clothes for her three daughters.

Her two older daughters, Ann, 15, and Beryt, 13, have horses on the lower half of their property, so Mrs. Fricke has decided that the time has come for her to take up riding. Her younger children are Dana, 10, and Michael, 4 1/2.

AMONG HER other interests are gardening and newly started, golf lessons. During the school year, you are bound to see her shirt-tail flying as she heads down the hill to take some craft class or another.

In other words, here is an active person that has no time to get bored.

Her husband enjoys all of these hobbies. He is an active partner in the Fricke Barrington Building Contracting Co. and has made all of the additions and improvements on their home.

Shepherd of the Hills

United Lutheran Church
270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

BASEBALL teaches us to play the game called life. This popular American sport is catching fire here, what with the advent of the Dodgers, and the spirited activity in our local Babe Ruth, Little and Minor Leagues. The game is a healthy outlet for boyhood energy.

THE "PADRE of Sierra Madre," as this writer is called by his fellow pastors, likes baseball. Our Babe Ruth team, the Giants, lost several of its stars in the auction of Rev Hansen players. It is like a shepherd losing prize sheep! But at least the four teams are more equal, and a wonderful season opens Monday with the first game at 5:30 p.m. at La Salle Field.

COOPERATION of the Christian Brothers in allowing use of the diamond is evidence of the team spirit of the community in helping baseball and boys.

ABOUT NOW some may be wondering if this is a church column, or a sports story. Truth is, baseball is akin to Christianity. It teaches us to make the best of our abilities. . . to consider the other fellow. . . to play the game fairly. That's life, too—the Christian way of life—to develop our God-given talents to their foremost. . . to help our fellowman. . . and to do unto others as we would have done unto us.

ST. PAUL refers to athletics in his great letters to churches of his day. This great apostle of faith compares competitive sports to the game of life. This truth still rings true today.

IF CHRIST Himself came to earth today, I'm sure He would enjoy baseball, just as He enjoyed the wedding feast and other events of His time in the world.

TODAY'S THOUGHT — Other things being equal, the Christian stands the best chance of winning the game of life. For he is in touch with an Unseen Power that gives him strength to overcome all things.

—The Rev. Ray E. Hansen.

First Class Confirmation Set Saturday

The first confirmation class of Shepherd of the Hill Lutheran Church will be confirmed by Rev. Ray E. Hansen at 10 a.m. Sunday, May 25, in the Upper Room, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

The class of three includes Dick Hansen, son of pastor and Mrs. Hansen; Miss Raya Abbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Abbe, Sierra Madre, and Miss Beverly Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Bowman. San Gabriel, Dick is class president, Raya is secretary and Beverly is treasurer. The beautiful ceremony in which the class will take its confirmation vows will make them full members of the congregation. The three will take Holy Communion on the following Sunday, June 1.

Sunday will see the pastor preaching on "Tongues of Fire," based on the Biblical account of the first Pentecost day when the Holy Spirit was sent down by God, as Jesus had promised before ascending into Heaven.

"It is interesting that the first Pentecost was experienced in an Upper Room—much like our Upper Room, where we will be marking Pentecost for the first time since we began our worship services," said Pastor Hansen. The adult Bible study group will meet at 9 a.m. during the Sunday School hour.

YOUNG PEOPLE of the newly formed Luther League will meet at 7 p.m. Sunday in the Upper Room to plan a summer outing and beach party. Last Sunday evening the group of 20 youths toured the Sierra Madre Hospital.

VIEWSBy Toni Maurin

While playing with our 10-month-old son the other day I paused to reflect on some of his personality factors. It is true that we are able to guide children and mold them to a certain extent, but I'm sure that we never, subliminally their original dispositions and characteristics with which they come equipped.

It will never cease to amaze me when I see four children in the same family with four entirely different personalities. Life can never be dull while trying to cope with each individual psyche. I'm quite frankly intimidated when I read articles about broken marriages and crimes committed that were caused by the fact that the mother had not warmed the Pabulum to the right degree when feeding her infants. I just hope we are lucky enough to be able to raise children to be decent citizens in spite of the shortcomings of their parents.

THIS SEEMS to have been National Brotherhood Week up on the hill. He have had many visitors from abroad in and around our locale.

MR. AND MRS. Keirn Zebb of 1434 Old House Road had a grand time last week showing Mr. Burt Proest, from Amsterdam, Holland, some of our local sights. They took him out last weekend to see our California desert. This is something that is completely foreign to his country. Mr. Zebb became acquainted with Mr. Proest last year when he visited Holland.

DR. AND MRS. Charles Rasmussen of 1845 Kinneloa Mesa entertained Mr. Gerhard Utch of Hamburg, Germany. Dr. Rasmussen met Mr. Utch when he visited Madrid and then met him again in Lisbon. In addition to being an attorney, Mr. Utch is engaged in the import-export business, dealing primarily in dried fruits. He was quite taken with the fantastic sights in California, which naturally included Disneyland.

MR. AND MRS. Frank D. Ferris of 3036 Meyerloo Lane shared Mr. Ferris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Ferris, from Vancouver, B.C., with Mr. Ferris' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ferris. They spent a week at each home and then went on to Mexico before returning to Canada.

MR. AND MRS. W. D. Love, of Berkeley, visited with their daughter and family, the W. H. Dunning of 3323 Barhite. The Dunning had a joint "1-and-3-year-old party" last weekend for their two youngest children, Kimmy and Hal. Incidentally, Mr. Dunning recently played host to all the visiting observers on the Mobile Gas economy run. He left here with visitors from Nairobi, Shanghai, Yokohama and Capetown, South Africa. They ended up in Galveston, Texas.

DR. AND MRS. Philip T. Hoefler of 1747 Country Lane have as their guest, Kwai Ming Tom, from Hawaii. He will be here about six weeks all told. Dr. Hoefler left with him this week to take a brief trip down to Mexico City.

MR. AND MRS. Edward R. Halperin of 1490 Old House Road spent the last weekend visiting with their daughter and son-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Bruce Turnbull of Leucadia. They went down to observe the festivities connected with Armed Forces Day.

MR. AND MRS. R. B. English of 3033 Doane Road went with their two children, David and Larry, to Harwood Lodge, Sierra Club Hut, on Mt. Baldy. They joined with about 10 other couples and their families. On Friday evening they spent the time doing mountain dances or folk dances as we know them. On Saturday they took all the children hiking.

how to do the best with what you have.

The date to remember in connection with the semi-annual student body elections is May 28th. On this Wednesday the nominating assembly and final elections will be held. Yesterday the primaries were held and two candidates were selected from those listed below. Those offices in which two are running were not on the primary ballot.

President: Wendy Finkensbinder, Jim Gruettner; vice president, Sue Aubrey, Bill Dubberly; secretary, Kriss Jones, Linda McMahon; hospitality, Pam Munson, Paula Thompsons, Maggie Staphanas; publications, Laurel Kinninger, Bonnie Reeve; Safety, Jack Gregory, Larry Peal; girls' activities, Jane Downer, Susie Raymond; boys' activities, Bob Patterson, Bill Soldwisch; 10th counselor, Maru Nelson, Linda Sprott, Mary Ann Muth; 9th counselor, Jay Donahue, Sue Boswell, Jane Brown, Susie Burgess, Ellen More; 8th counselor, Margo Chase, Mike Nichols, Judy Severin, Holly Raymond, Penny Pettler, Sheila Peters.

FRIDAY LAST the girls of Wilson were entertained by Mrs. Johnson at the annual girls' assembly. Mr. Johnson gave a very interesting and helpful talk on glamor and ELAINE EASTWOOD invited Grace Ross, Bev Danciate, Miki Athay, Linda Faulkner, Judy High, Diane Morlan, and Anne Moser to bring sleeping bags and records to her house last Friday night and spend the night really living it up. They all had a really great time.

RANDY ZORN, Rick Anderson, Dennis Cassoo and Jimmy Doyle helped Marty Smith celebrate his birthday. First they had pizza after which they went roller skating.

TOMORROW is the long awaited Costume Day for the 10th graders. It is a day they have waited for since they witnessed the 10th graders enjoying themselves when they were but 7th graders.

The theme this year is "Reincarnation," which means they may be almost anything under the sun.

There are a few regulations which must be observed. You may not represent another sex, no barefeet allowed though go-aheads may be worn, you may not impersonate religions or nationalities, and there will be no coming as cigarettes or alcoholic beverages. Prizes will be awarded.

Ode to the Dodgers
Tells a Story Too True

Let's re-consider the fate of Walter O'Malley. Whose team has been playing in cannonball alley. Hit pitchers can't pitch, his batters can't hit. And his fielders perform like they're having a fit.

The treatment they get from the visiting teams. Makes the customers break out in horrible screams. Big Duke's playing games while the manager burns. And the throwers draw straws to determine next turns.

Our standing is low—our spirits are the same. While our sportswriting friends seek to lay the blame. "The fence is too short!"—"the field is too big!" While the manager's grave they begin to dig.

To lose is impossible—to win is divine. So our boys are shortenders on all morning lines. The L.A. fans—of whom they're galore. Are used to good teams—like "Old Troy"—of yore.

The Giants and Pirates and Phillies and Cubs. Have all taken turns at wielding their clubs. Our miserable Dodgers have strained and they've bled. And all have exclaimed—"they should have stood in bed!"

Musial and Mays, Maserowski and Saur. Have beat our boys silly while winning the hour. We get reasons from O'Malley and Poulsen and such. But just give us a team that can hit in the clutch.

And during this time, when chaos prevails. The flow of the dollar tells lots of tales. O'Malley stands by—keeping tab on the take. Which has caused Wall Street to break out of its wake.

People who don't know a ball from a strike. Stand in line at the booths and get involved in big fights. So Walter, take heart, they're with you I'm sure. And for me—I love those Dodgers—so trying, so pure.

Yankees Team to Beat
In Hastings Little League

After the first week's play in the major league it appears that the Yankees are the team to beat for the pennant. They lead the league with two victories and no defeats having disposed of the Dodgers and the Airligger Indians.

Both the Yankee pitchers, Rick Nagai and Freddie Riecke, turned in fine performances.

The Braves look like a contender, having defeated the Tigers but on Friday lost to the Dodgers in a close game 5-2.

The Dodgers also could be a contender as they lost to the strong Yankees but came back to defeat the Braves. Panooska of the Dodgers had the honor of hitting the first home run of the season over the center field fence.

The Red have the unusual distinction of not having won or lost a game as they played two ties with the Indians and the Tigers. These ties will be played off at a later date.

The Indians and Tigers look much improved this season although they

Questions Answered on Diabetes, Vertigo, Vitamins

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

QUESTION—What are the symptoms of diabetes?—C.D.

ANSWER—The typical symptoms of diabetes are increased urination, increased hunger and increased thirst. The loss of water, due to increased urination may cause dry skin. In addition, itching may be a prominent symptom, particularly of the genitalia in the female. Frequent boils and carbuncles may be the first warning signal of diabetes.

The eyes may be involved with inability to focus or blurring vision due to unsuspected diabetes. There may be pain, numbness and tingling in the extremities due to nutritional changes in the nerves. The stomach and gastrointestinal tract may be involved with abdominal pain, nausea and vomiting caused by diabetes, although this usually occurs when the disease has progressed to acidosis.

Q—Can the doctor tell in advance whether a cesarean section will be necessary?—D.P.

A—Only in those cases where the woman's pelvic structure is such that the baby could not normally pass through it. All other indications develop in the later stages of pregnancy.

Q—How is it that acrobats and dancers can whirl repeatedly yet not become dizzy?—S.G.

A—Partly this is due to the body being able to ignore certain symptoms after long experience. Also, it is possible that the tiny nerve endings within the inner ear become somewhat blunted after repeated exposure.

Q—What are the sources of Vitamin A and Vitamin K?—E.L.

A—Vitamin A is found in such vegetables as spinach and particularly carrots, in butter and in colored margarine. Carrots, incidentally, form perhaps the largest commercial source of the carotin used to give margarine its yellowish color.

Vitamin K is found in leafy vegetables in sufficient degree and, a less common source, rice bran and hog liver.

Q—Can anything be done for the hearing nerve after it is damaged by noise?—O.M.

A—Not for the nerve itself, but considerable help can be given the individual through such rehabilitative measures as lip reading, speech training and electronic hearing aids.

Q—How long will a person be off work following a hernia operation?—W.D.

A—In the average adult the repair of a hernia is usually not a long-lasting procedure. The patient may be hospitalized for a week or less, ambulatory shortly after surgery and up and about all during the hospital stay. The length of time off work depends on the type of hernia and on the type of work performed—varying from a month to three months.

MEET THE PEOPLE, that's what the wife and daughters of Sen. William F. Knowland are doing this week in Los Angeles County. Here are, left to right, Mrs. William F. Knowland, daughter Emelyn, the wife of Oakland attorney, Harold W. Jewett, Jr., daughter-in-law, Dee, who is Mrs. Joseph W. Knowland, and daughter, Estelle, wife of All-American basketball champion Robert V. McKeen. The Knowland women are travelling 5,000 miles of California highways during May to meet the people. They were in Pasadena yesterday.

FIRE FLAMES

By Chief James Heasley

The average American works himself to death so he can live, and many marriages crack up when the installment collector cracks down, so while our scientists are trying to find out the properties of light, Joe Grippi says it arrives too early in the morning.

That being the case, is reason enough for the smoggy-eyed appearance of Bob Castenada as he arrives at the bath.

On his way to work, Bob stopped, looked, and listened at the railroad tracks. All he heard was the car behind him crashing into his gas tank.

If the above can be called a joke, it is no jest when a fellow who is sound asleep and comfortably tucked in bed is bounced out by the fire siren.

Some of these firemen must sleep with a megaphone attached to one ear. It is just about impossible to get to the trucks first when that old noisy horn blows, day or night. The fellows are to be complimented for their devout loyalty and alertness. We depend on them. Good fortune is with us so long as we have these guys.

A GROUP of the firemen worked for several evenings to prepare the float they entered in the Monrovia Day Parade. There is little doubt that Sierra Madre was there.

THIS COLUMN continues to urge residents to keep the premises clean and clear of inflammable materials. We hope that the day set aside for clean-up of rubbish, will be a great success.

The city has opened up dumping facilities at the city property at 620 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. on May 24th. People are asked to take the matter seriously and eliminate all rubbish and trash from the premises.

The Fire Department requests that the now hazardous weeds and tall grass be removed before we have a major fire.

If dry weeds and such are near houses or sheds they may mean the destruction of valuable buildings and the contents. It takes so little to ignite dry weeds.

Old rotten wood and trash lumber about the yard not only create a fire hazard, but also supply rodents with an ideal nesting place. Complaints of rats in some vicinities continue to be common.

Two Groups Endorse School Bonds

League of Women Voters of Pasadena and Pasadena YWCA board of directors have unanimously endorsed the Pasadena school bond issues to be presented on the June 3 ballot.

"The League," said Mrs. Wilson S. Hines, president, "is on record in support of financing that is fully sufficient for distinctly better than average education in the Pasadena school districts."

The YWCA board also voted to inform the YWCA's 7,000 members of their endorsement and to urge all members of voting age to vote "yes" on the propositions.

Mrs. Loyal King, chairman, stated their action was based on a report on the bond issues prepared by the YWCA public affairs committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frederick C. Blake.

Field Picnic Tomorrow

Families of Eugene Field School children as well as teachers and staff and their families will gather for the school's annual picnic from 4 to 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Santa Anita Park in Arcadia.

Organized games and races are set up between 4:30 and 5:30 p.m. Each family will bring its own dinner, with ice cream and coffee to be furnished.

Mrs. Ronald Townsend is chairman of the picnic.

In the Year 1958 . . .

'Little Red Schoolhouse' Ain't What She Used to Be

This is California "Little Red Schoolhouse" in the year 1958:

An enrollment of nearly 3,000,000 children in grades kindergarten through 14 . . . 6,300 school buses hauling 654,000 of these youngsters daily between their homes and schools . . .

6,458,216 textbooks supplied to the more than 2,000,000 children enrolled in grades one through eight, at a cost of $5,700,000 . . .

61 public junior colleges enrolling 81,110 full-time students . . .

955,175 adults enrolled in 18,525 after-hours classes . . .

51,000 full-time equivalent students attending California's 12 state colleges, with 165,000 expected by 1970 . . .

THESE FIGURE, extracted from an overview of California's schools released by state superintendent of public instruction, Roy E. Simpson, give some insight into the enormous size and complexity to which public education has grown in this second most populous state. Speed with which the growth is going on is shown in the expansion of elementary and high school enrollments since 1940.

In that year, the state's public schools enrolled more than 1,000,000 children for the first time. Dr. Simpson's figures show. Thirteen years later, there were 2,000,000; and four years later, nearly 3,000,000. By 1965 it is expected that California's bulging "Little Red Schoolhouse" must provide for 4,000,000 youngsters.

One consequence of this mushrooming school population, Dr. Simpson points out, is a critical teacher shortage. Between now and 1970 there will be need for about 246,000 new teachers, and annual average of more than 17,000.

"Every class must be taught by a competent, well-qualified teacher so that every student can be helped to achieve his full potential," he says.

The term "every student" includes children who come to school emotionally unprepared or unable to learn. In each school district there can be found an appreciable number of children and youth who, because of a marked deviation in emotional, physical or mental growth or condition, require special opportunities, special and special instruction.

CALIFORNIA'S "Little Red Schoolhouse," 1958 model, trains for all types of occupations. From junior high school through junior college, and in adult education programs, students may enroll in vocational classes in which they receive training in a great diversity of jobs.

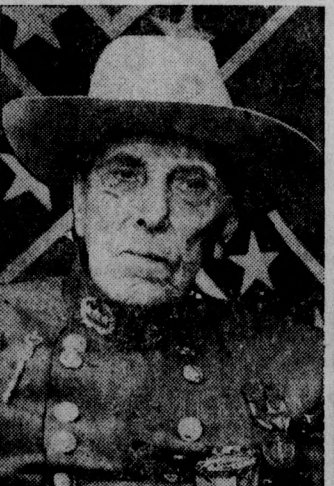

In 1956-57, pre-apprentice training was offered in 1,042 high school classes. Agricultural education, business education, and home-making education are all available in California public high schools.

The 1958 "Little Red Schoolhouse" recognizes and makes special provision for gifted children. Three centers for the study of educational programs for gifted pupils were established at the beginning of the second semester of the present school year. Selection of pupils to be placed in try-out programs during 1958-59 has already been started at these three centers.

In California, 19 of every 20 boys and girls of high school age attend high school, as against 73 per cent of this age group in high schools nationwide.

NO OTHER state in the Union can approach California in the number of junior colleges (61) or number of students enrolled - now 267,350, of whom 81,110 are enrolled full time.

And what about the "Three R's?" The exterior of the
